Audio Conferencing for Microsoft Teams

Trevor Leslie - 2020-09-08 - 0 Comments - in Office 365

If a client needs Audio Conferencing for Microsoft Teams (where people can phone into a Teams meeting) there are two options

1) pay per minute - cheap and multiple people can use it takes more to setup - Check with Daniel and see the following links

<https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/microsoftteams/set-up-audio-conferencing-in-teams>

<https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/microsoftteams/audio-conferencing-in-office-365>

2) pay per user - currently only about $6/mth/user

all you do is get Jason to get licensing, assign the license to a user and it emails the user with info/instructions - I've included the email Wayne at CS&D got below.

So if you get a request, check with Jason for current pricing.
